One Page Profile

It captures the basic but important information about a person. It is positively focused on the individual's core qualities and abilities. Create a One Page Profile with family, friends, and others that supports the individual. Personalize the One Page profile with pictures, artwork, and colors to reflect the individual described.

This is a version of a one page profile, which includes the core components that should be in any version of a one page profile: What people like and admire, what is most important to, and how to best support the individual.

A One Page profile is a great way to describe what is important to the individual living in a residential setting, attending a day program, school and/or any setting. One Page profiles can be shared or posted where it can be seen, if the individual chooses. It is a great snapshot of what the individual likes and a wonderful skill that can assist in Person Centered Planning.

Please see our new One Page Profile developed by our ELARC, Person Centered Thinking Coordinators: Vivian Lau and Karen Sibrian.
