Person-centered planning is about one's future and reaching their goals. The process should be driven by the person and reflect what is important to and for that person.

Person-centered planning can include other people, such as family or friends, only if one chooses to include them in the process.

Come join us to learn about the different types of person centered plans you can create!

In this workshop, you will learn about: Why person centered plans matter and the basic elements of all person centered plans

If you wish to participate in a language other than English, please RSVP to Monserrat Palacios at (626) 248-4926 at least one week prior to the meeting to allow sufficient time for ELARC to make every attempt to meet your request.
