Service Provider Updates

Keeping Safe this Thanksgiving

ELARC wishes everyone a happy, and healthy Thanksgiving. While we all want to be together this holiday season, we also want to ensure we will be keeping those we love and care for safe. Just today the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) released guidance urging all Americans to skip holiday travel this year. The CDC further suggests that virtual Thanksgivings pose the lowest risk, and that smaller, shorter and outdoor gatherings all help reduce the danger of viral transmission. Read the CDC guidance here:

A Special Note and Invitation for our Residential Service Providers

Join the discussion via Zoom at this Friday's Weekly Provider Check in at 1:30 where, in addition to updates on Alternative Services, we will review the CCL PIN and DDS Directive regarding visits. We plan on discussing navigating requests for family visits while abiding by these and other public health guidances, such as this latest CDC guidance. Join in this and all the weekly discussions every Friday at 1:30 pm in order to stay informed and work together.
