The ELARC Self-Determination Orientation Workbook was created through a collaboration of the Eastern Los Angeles Regional Center Self-Determination Local Volunteer Advisory Committee, regional center staff, and Helen Sanderson Associates. The content was adapted from materials from the Department of Developmental Services and Tri-Counties Regional Center. The Person Centered Planning module includes resources from the Learning Community for Person Centered Practices and Charting the Life Course from University of Missouri, Kansas City.

Introduction

What Is Self-Determination?

Self-Determination is:

- Choice, Control and Responsibility
- Services and Supports that fit your life
- You get to decide how your budget is spent
- Lots of support
- Person Centered

Self-Determination is having a choice in all areas of your life including where you want to live, how you will spend your time each day and who you will spend your time with. It's about having hopes, dreams, and goals for the future and going after them. It's about being in control, making your own decisions, and spending money your way.

Hiring Service Providers In The Self-Determination Program

It is important to find people to help you who understand your needs, know your community, and with whom you are comfortable. You will need to interview and speak with people who you might hire to help you.

Here are some ideas to help you with finding, interviewing and selecting people to help you meet your goals and achieve your dreams.

1. If you need it, ask for help from people you trust.

2. There are many ways to find people to help you, such as:

- Ask people you trust for recommendations, like friends, your regional center service coordinator, people you know from self-advocacy or family support groups, therapists, teachers, and others.

- Put an ad online, in a local paper on social media or reach out to your support system.
Do not put your name, address, or phone number in the ad. It is best to receive applications by email.

- Ask for a resume and 2-3 references.
Find an agency that can recommend workers and staff.

Hiring Service Providers In The Self-Determination Program

3. Once you have found people who you might be interested in hiring, schedule an interview. Some people like to interview potential staff on the phone first and then schedule another interview in person. For in-person interviews:

- Schedule the interview at a time and place where you feel comfortable.
- For your safety, have another person you trust with you at the interview.
- Think about what you want to know about the people you hire. Have your questions ready before the interview. See the attached pages for ideas for following questions. You can use some or all of these questions and come up with more questions that ask about your particular needs.
- Take notes on their answers.
- If you have more questions after the interview, call them and ask.

4. For people you want to hire, call their references. If possible, you might also ask people who are not on their reference list.

5. After you offer to hire someone, meet with them to sign two papers:

- Service Provider Agreement that lists how much they will be paid and when they will work.
- Community Inclusion Assessment Form, which makes sure that they understand you will make your own choices and be included in the community (HCBS Final Rule compliance).

Hiring Service Providers In The Self-Determination Program

6. If they are providing personal care, they must get a background check. You can also ask any other people you hire to get a background check. Your Financial Management Service will help you with this.

7. Check with your Financial Management Service agency to see what paperwork they will need.

8. Once their background check is approved and the regional center has signed the Community Inclusion form, the person can begin working for you.

9. If you choose the sole employer Financial Management Service model, remember to ask your Financial Management Service agency for help to make sure you are abiding by all laws and paying all taxes.

Possible Questions For Service Providers

These are questions for providers who DO NOT provide personal care or assistance in the home or community. Examples could be a speech therapist, gymnastics coach, computer teacher, or someone to help you make friends or have a relationship.

1. Tell me what you know about self-determination? You want to make sure they understand how self-determination is different from the traditional regional center system.

- It is based on your person-centered plan.
- You are in charge of who gets hired and supervising staff and agencies. Services must provide community inclusion.
- Bills go to a Financial Management Service provider.
- The service provider does not need to be a vendor or have a contract with the regional center.

2. What experience have you had providing this service?

3. What kind of qualifications do you have? (Licenses, credentials, certifications) Some providers might need to provide proof of certification to the Financial Management Service.

4. Have you had experience providing this service in a person-centered way? You direct how the service is provided to you.

Possible Questions For Service Providers

5. How would you learn more about me to better work with me?

6. I have certain things that are really important to me, like _____. Are you willing to customize services to meet my specific needs and preferences?

7. How do you determine if people are happy with your services?

8. When and where are your services available?

9. How many hours are you available per week?

10. When would you be able to start?

11. How would I make changes in my services or schedule if I need to?

12. Are you willing to attend team or circle meetings to share information with other people who support me?

13. How will you keep in touch with me and other members of my support team?

Questions You CANNOT Ask During An Interview

California and federal laws tell us that there are questions that you are NOT allowed to ask during job interviews.

We want to make sure you follow the law when you are conducting interviews.

- You can't ask their age.
- You can't ask whether they are married or have children.
- You can't ask their gender.
- You can't ask about their sexual orientation.
- You can't ask if they are pregnant.
- You can't ask about their race.
- You can't ask about their religion.
- You can't ask if they have a criminal record.
- You can't ask what their previous salary was.

Notes:

- You are in charge of who gets hired and supervising staff and agencies.

9. What is the average number of years your staff work at your agency?

10. Will your agency allow a different person to work with me?

11. How will you keep in touch with me and other members of my support team?

12. How will you check with me to make sure the services are working out for me?

13. What should I do if I have a problem or complaint?

14. Do you have any references you can provide?

Possible Questions To Ask References For People You Want To Hire

References are the people your potential service provider gives you to provide important information on their experience. In general, references will provide very positive things to say about the person you may want to hire. It is important to ask questions that might give you a complete picture about the person you want to hire. You can use all or some of these questions or come up with other questions on your own. Some of these questions may relate to you or the prospective service provider. Be sure to tell the potential worker that you will be calling their references.

1. My name is _____. You have been put down as a reference for _____ .

2. Is this a convenient time to talk?

3. This person has applied to be a _____ for me/my family member and I want to ask you some questions.

4. How do you know _____ ?

- ✓ How to best support you...

Notes:

Guidance For One Page Profiles

What is a one page profile? A one page profile is a starting point to summarize what we know matters to a person (what is important to) and how to support them well. The expert on the content of the one page profile is the person themselves and people who love and care most about them. It also shares what others appreciate about the person.

Why do we have them?

So that we know what is important to each of us and how to best support one another. We all have gifts and qualities, things that are important to us and we all require support that is individual to us.

What people like and admire about you...

What this section isn't

A list of accomplishments or awards - instead it is a summary of your positive characteristics.

What this section is

What is good about you? What do others value about you? What are the positive contributions that you make?

What is important to you...

What this section isn't

Simply a list of things you like - instead it is a summary of what really matters to you.

What this section is

A summary of what matters to you. This tells people what is important to you. What your hobbies, interests and passions are. Who is important to you and what makes a 'good' day for you.

How to best support you...

What this section isn't

A list of very general hints - instead it is the specific information that would be useful for other people to know about to make sure you feel supported.

What this section is

The specific information that would be useful for other people to know and do if they are to support you in the best possible way.

Guidance For One Page Profiles

Things to think about in general when developing one page profiles

Is the profile written in everyday language - not 'access the community' or other service speak? Does it use assertive language - "John must have a cup of hot chocolate, in a mug, each night before going to bed, usually around 10:45pm."?

How are they developed?

Developing a one-page profile can be something that you do with family, friends, manager, other team members or people who support you. You may wish to start developing your one-page profile on your own and ask others to get involved later.

How will this information be used?

Developing a one page profile is not just another paper exercise, but a way of getting to know more about you, so that we are able to work well with you.

Here are some ways you can use one page profiles:

- So we know what is important to and how best to support you.
- As a basis for learning what is working and not working for you and developing actions.
- For person-centered reviews.
- To find the best match when identifying people to support you. It's important to share relevant personal interests and hobbies to get the best match between what is important to you and the person providing the support.
- Within meetings to make sure we all know you really well and know what we need to know or do to support you.
- To value your unique contributions.

Your one page profile is fluid and can evolve as your interests and hobbies change.

Preparing For Your Person-Centered Plan

Tips to host your Person-Centered Plan Meeting:

Your person-centered plan must provide the following for you:

- Pick where and when to meet
- Pick who is invited
- Let you be the boss of your meeting
- Help you with what you need and want
- Give you the power to choose
- Talk about things that matter most to you
- Talk to you, not about you
- Respect your culture and use language that you understand

Tips to Develop your Person-Centered Plan:

- Think about the people, places and things that are important to you, your cultural background, and lifestyle preferences
- Think about your hopes, dreams and vision for the future
- If you are asking for help, tell people what language and or images you understand
- Think about what might be some meaningful goals for your life
- Develop a spending plan that helps you work towards your vision of the future and goals in your person-centered plan
- Clearly states who will provide services and supports to help you meet your goal
- Review your plan. You say when it is done.

Your plan will be reviewed and updated every 12 months in Self-Determination or when your situation or needs change or when you request a new plan.

Choosing A Person-Centered Plan Facilitator

Who can be a Person-Centered Plan facilitator?

- A person who is skilled in Person-Centered Planning, an Independent Facilitator or someone you know and are comfortable with who can help you plan.
- Your Individual Program Plan (IPP) must be developed utilizing a person-centered planning process.
- A list of Person-Centered Planners and Independent Facilitators who can assist with planning can be found here:
<https://www.elarc.org/home/showpublisheddocument/14956/637613404375300000>

Who pays for my Person-Centered Plan facilitator?

- Participants in Self-Determination may request person-centered planning services and utilize their budget to purchase planning supports.
- There are lots of resources on developing a Person-Centered Plan, it does not have to be a paid service.
- Your Independent Facilitator can provide this as part of your budget.

Possible Questions To Ask When Selecting A Person-Centered Plan Facilitator:

How much do you know about California's Self-Determination program?	How will you get to know and understand me?	Can you advocate for me at my IPP?
Have you had training to be a Person-Centered Plan facilitator? If so where, when and from whom did you receive training on Person-Centered Planning?	I have certain things that are really important to me, are you willing to adapt your services to meet my specific needs and preferences?	When would I receive a copy of my Person-Centered plan and my One Page Profile/Description? How will you send it? (i.e. mail, encrypted email, etc?)
Which method or methods of Person-Centered Planning can you use/facilitate?	How will you help me gather the people in my life who care about me and can support me?	What happens if I want to make changes in my plan or it does not reflect who I am?
What experience have you had as a Person-Centered Plan facilitator?	How would you prepare me and my circle of support for my Person-Centered Plan?	How long will it take for the entire process?
Do you have any testimonials from individuals or families that you helped?	How will my meeting be conducted? What role will I have?	Are you willing to negotiate a price based on my specific needs?
Have you created them for my age group, and/or in my preferred language?	How will we meet; virtually or in person?	Given what you know about what I need, how much would you charge? How is payment arranged?
Can you speak, read and write the plan in my preferred language?	Would you help me to create my plan only or are you able to help me find services or activities in my area that I might be interested in?	Do you have an agreement that includes: a statement what you will provide me, start date, the time period, payment schedule and right to termination?
	How well do you know my community?

Person-Centered Planning Methods

Overview

Person-Centered Thinking skills can allow for the discovery of information and learning about a person through facilitated conversation and can include but are not limited to the following skills: Important To and For a person, How to best support a person, One Page

Descriptions/Profiles, Relationship Map, Communication Chart, Matching Supports, 2 Minute Drill, Learning Log, 4+1, Donut, and Working not Working.

Eastern Los Angeles Regional Center offers training on Person-Centered Thinking for more information go to: <https://www.elarc.org/about-us/person-centered-thinking>

Essential Lifestyle Planning assumes that there are people who are knowledgeable and know the person, but doesn't assume that there is a committed group of people around the person. Essential lifestyle plans have 4 basic sections:

The administrative section (Who the plan belongs to, who was involved in producing it.)

The person's section ("Good things about me." What is important to the person.)

The support section (Describes what support the person requires and what people who know and love the person believe are important for the person to be healthy and safe.)

The action plan (Reflects the discrepancy between what is described in the plan and what is happening in the person's life at the moment. Where something is important to the person and is not present in their life, an action is set to change this.)

Essential Lifestyle Planning was designed to be done inside and outside systems.

Person-Centered Planning Methods

A Person-Centered Review is a person-centered/directed planning process that gathers together the people that are important in someone's life and uses person-centered thinking tools to explore what is happening from different perspectives including the person served, people important to them and other people they interact with. The goal is to come to agreement on what actions might need to be implemented to create a better life and match the best supports to help achieve this.

- It focuses on what matters to the person, what support they need and what is working and not working in their life.
- The questions asked in this style of planning are: What is Important To the person now and in the future (i.e. immediate and in the long-term future. This can include his/her hopes, dreams, and aspirations for the future). What support and help does the person need to be healthy and safe based on what is important to him/her; It should not include things that the person can do for him/herself independently. Issues to work out and questions to answer. What is working not working from different perspectives from each person; and from this an action plan is developed.

Planning Live is an inclusive and engaging approach to Person-Centered planning that brings the people who are important to the planner together, in person or remotely, to listen to what is important to them and discuss a range of topics that culminates in a set of desired outcomes and a “perfect week” on which to base the planning of the person's support and spending plan if in Self-Determination.

- In situations where people live together and share a support team, Planning Live can take the form of a 2-day event, where all those involved will go through the process together, and develop a unique support plan for each person. When people cannot come together, Planning Live can be facilitated online with a planner and their invited guests using videoconferencing and interactive technology.

Person-Centered Planning Methods

PATH stands for Planning Alternative Tomorrow with Hope.

PATH is a group process for discovering a way to move toward a positive and possible goal, which is rooted in life purpose, by enrolling others, building strength and finding a workable strategy. It is a creative planning tool that starts with the end in mind.

- The work begins with a visioning process that focuses the person with whom planning is being done to identify their dreams and defining how they want to live at some point in the future. Then the planning process moves from the North Star backwards to an outcome of first (beginning) steps that are possible and positive.
- This planning process is recorded primarily with graphics to represent the ideas shared and gathered. The questions asked in this style of planning are: What is your North Star? (i.e. ideals, values, passions, hopes, dreams) What is positive and possible to achieve within a time frame? What is happening now? Who to enroll? How to grow stronger? What are our next steps and strategies?
- This process is conducted by two facilitators, one to facilitate and one to record. Trust and confidentiality are two key issues that must be addressed and reinforced throughout this process.

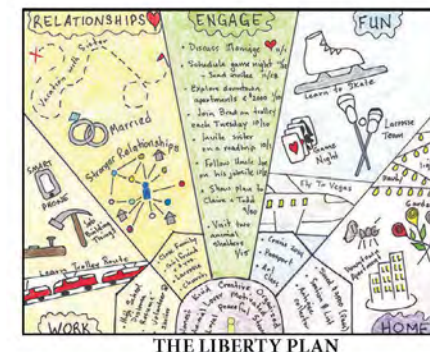

More information: <https://inclusion.com/path-maps-and-person-centered-planning/>

Liberty Plan is a tailored process for cultivating possibilities in life categories that matter most to the person now. It is a chance to celebrate the person, reflect on what they want to accomplish and listen for what more the person wants to explore. It helps to engage the person in action. This planning process is recorded primarily with graphics to represent the ideas shared and gathered.

- The areas touched upon in this style of planning are: Celebrate (brag about yourself a bit), Reflect (review previous accomplishments), Listen (invite dreams, thoughts and plans to unfold), Engage (bring the future into now by creating an action plan).

THE LIBERTY PLAN

Person-Centered Planning Methods

MAPs stands for Making Action Plans. It is about mobilizing the circle of support that's around a person. A group of committed people who are willing to walk with the person and be with the person and typically are mostly not paid. MAPs is a way to mobilize that group and keep them mobilized and committed to continue to work towards a desirable future for that person.

- MAPs is a group process for clarifying gifts of the person, identifying meaningful contributions they can make or currently make, specifying the necessary conditions for contribution and making agreements that will develop opportunities for contribution.
- The categories covered: Hear the story, Honor the dream, Recognize the nightmare, Name the gifts, Say what it takes, Make Agreements, Celebrate.
- This planning process is recorded primarily with graphics to represent the ideas shared and gathered. This process is conducted by two facilitators, one to facilitate and one to record.

MODULE 4
My Individual Budget

My Individual Budget

Notes:

Two Important Terms

Individual Budget

The total $ amount I can spend for the next 12 months

Spending Plan

How I spend my budget

How Is My Individual Budget Determined?

How much was spent on my services in the previous 12 months?

Notes:

Reasons Why My Individual Budget May Change

You have received less than 12 months of services.

Reasons for receiving less than 12 months of service could include:

- Illness
- Services started or ended within past 12 months
- Provider is not available or too far from my home
- Waiting for transportation
- Waiting for a provider to have an open spot
- No respite provider who could work the hours I needed

If you need additional services:

- My service coordinator will discuss with me at my Individual Program Plan meeting.
- My Individual Budget would change based on identified service need.
- The amount to add to my Individual Budget for these services will be determined based on the regional center average costs for similar services.

Reasons Why My Individual Budget May Change

Unmet Need

- Services in my Individual Program Plan were not used.
- There were needs not addressed in my Individual Program Plan.

OR

Change in Circumstance

- Life has changed, and so have my needs.

You will want to contact your Service Coordinator.

My Individual Budget CANNOT be increased...

- To pay for an Independent Facilitator (if I choose to hire one).
- To pay for the required Financial Management Service (FMS) agency.
- To pay for services or supports that I would not have been allowed under traditional services.

Reasons How My Individual Budget Can Change

At my Individual Program Plan I was “authorized” (or approved) to receive a certain amount of services.

Example:

Authorization for 30 hours of respite per month

In the past 12 months I used less services than I was “authorized” to use.

Example:

Used an average of 20 hours per month

The difference between “authorized” & used will be discussed with my service coordinator to determine if my budget should be changed.

Example:

Difference of 10 hours spent per month was not spent

How Will I Review My Individual Budget?

Step 1:

- The regional center has created a worksheet that will show what was spent in the last 12 months for all of my services.
- If a provider has not billed the regional center for some of my services, those estimated costs will be added in.
- If I had a one-time cost or a temporary service that is not anticipated to be needed in the next 12 months, it will be subtracted from the budget.

Step 2:

- Discuss with my planning team my needs.
- Money for my unmet or changed needs will be added as agreed.
- At my Individual Program Plan meeting, my service coordinator will discuss all of this with me and show me the budget worksheet.
- Costs for unmet or changed needs will be determined based on prior average costs for same or similar services.

Ex: Medi-Cal, IHSS
- What services will not come from your Individual Budget

What decisions will you make to develop your spending plan?

- Who?
- How often?
- When?
- Length of time?
- Cost?

Services Covered In Your Spending Plan

The spending plan must meet the following criteria:

Notes:

Services And Supports That CAN And CANNOT Be In Your Spending Plan

What are Generic Resources?

What comes to mind when you think of the word “generic”?

- Generic resources are public sources of funding that are required to pay for services.
- Generic resources can help you save money and help you with your budget planning.
- You must access these public sources first.

What are the legal requirements for accessing generic resources in Self Determination?

- The SAME requirement as in the traditional regional center system.
- According to the Lanterman Act, the regional center must exhaust all available generic resources before funding services.
- You may have to show a letter from the public source that states they cannot provide you a service or cannot provide the amount of service you need to maintain your independence.
 - Can you think of a time you had to produce a letter to show you pursued a generic resource? (i.e. In-Home Support Services (IHSS) award letter to support the need for more personal assistance, a doctor’s note, a denial letter from your private health insurance, a denial letter from Dept. of Rehabilitation, etc.)

Generic Resources

Insurance or Medi-Cal

Medi-Cal / Medi-Care: may serve as a primary or secondary type of insurance, it could help pay for medical equipment, behavioral services, medication, diapers, or any other medical related expense.

Private insurance serves as the primary source of medical coverage. Some examples are: Blue Shield, Kaiser, Blue Cross, Anthem, these are common in California and may help pay for medical expenses and treatments.

What resources does your local community have?

Some additional examples of generic resources are: city recreation departments, YMCA, public library (free internet access), local churches (community groups, music programs), local Family Resource Centers (support groups, trainings, libraries, holiday events, dances, opportunities to make friends and share your story with other parents), community colleges and universities (lots to explore in this area).

Generic Resources

Generic resources must be utilized first. This is the SAME requirement as in the traditional regional center system. According to the Lanterman Act, the regional center must exhaust all available generic resources before funding services in Self-Determination.

Why do you want to use generic resources?

- Helps you save money in your Spending Plan for other services & supports to help you live the independent life you want to live.

How do you find generic resources?

- Your service coordinator may help you explore and pursue generic resources you may qualify for. The regional center has a wealth of information about the availability of generic resources. Ask you service coordinator!!
- Your Independent Facilitator may help you discover and pursue generic resources you may qualify for.
- When identifying your Independent Facilitator, make sure they know the generic resources available to you and in your community, ask!!

Talk with your team if a generic resource does not meet your needs.

Self-Determination And The “Final Rule”

The Self-Determination Program is designed so that you are included in YOUR community.

- ✓ You make your own choices.
- ✓ You live in neighborhoods of your own choosing.
- ✓ You have the opportunity to work and volunteer.
- ✓ You are able to make friends with people with and without disabilities.

Notes:

Home And Community-Based Services (HCBS) Final Rule For Individuals And Families:

People with intellectual and developmental disabilities are provided many services because of the Lanterman Act. Many services people receive are paid for with state and federal money from the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). Therefore, California must comply with what is called the Home and Community-Based Services (HCBS) Final Rule. This rule sets requirements for HCBS settings, which are places where people live or receive services. Each state has until March 2023 to help providers comply with the HCBS Final Rule.

The HCBS Final Rule Applies to:

- Residential and non-residential settings; including certified and licensed homes
- Day programs, and other day-type services
- Employment options and work programs

The HCBS Final Rule does NOT Apply to:

- Nursing homes
- Hospitals
- Intermediate Care Facility for Individuals with Intellectual Disabilities (ICF/IID)
- Institutions for mental diseases (IMD)

What is the Goal of the HCBS Final Rule?

To enhance the quality of services provided by:

- Maximizing opportunities and choices for individuals
- Promoting community integration by making sure individuals have full access to the community
- Making sure individuals have the opportunity to work and spend time with other people in their community who do not have disabilities
- Ensuring individual preferences are supported and rights are protected
- Establishing person-centered service planning requirements, which includes a process driven and directed by the individual to identify needed services and supports

All Settings

The Final Rule requires that you can:

- Spend time in, and being a part of, your community
- Work alongside people who do not have disabilities
- Have choices regarding services and supports, and who provides them
- Have control of your schedule and activities

Residential Settings (Provider Owned or Controlled)

In addition to the requirements applicable to all settings, the Final Rule requires that you have:

- Choice about your roommates
- Privacy in your room, including a lock on your door
- Control of your schedule and activities
- The ability to have visitors of your choosing, at any time
- Freedom to furnish and decorate your room
- A lease or other legal agreement, protecting you from eviction

Home And Community-Based Services (HCBS) Final Rule For Service Providers:

How will your service as a provider change?

If you are a service provider who provides services to multiple consumers in the same location, we have to make sure these services do not isolate individuals from the community. The Final Rule says that settings must be integrated and support full access to the community. As a provider, you may need to modify where and how your service is delivered to meet the HCBS Final Rule. Policies and program designs may need to be changed and training to your staff may be necessary to assure their understanding of the new expectations.

Assessing Provider Settings

All providers will soon be required to complete a self-assessment survey that will help determine whether or not a setting complies with the HCBS Final Rule or if modifications are needed. For settings that require changes, there will be time to develop transition plans. Training will be provided on the self-assessment process and expectations, and additional information will be posted on the DDS webpage.

Where can I find more information?

3. Ensures an individual's rights of privacy, dignity and respect, as well as freedom from coercion and restraint.
4. Optimizes, but does not regiment, individual initiative, autonomy, and independence in making life choices, including but not limited to: daily activities, physical environment, and with whom to interact.
5. Facilitates individual choice regarding services and supports, and who provides them.

In provider-owned or controlled residential settings:

6. The unit or dwelling is a specific physical place that can be owned, rented, or occupied under a legally enforceable agreement by the individual receiving services.

9. Individuals are able to have visitors of their choosing at any time.
10. The setting is physically accessible to the individual.

Setting Assessment And Process

The provider will complete a self- assessment of the setting.

2.

The selected provider, the regional center and YOU will conduct an onsite assessment.

3.

If the provider passes you can use this service.

4.

If the provider does not pass, you can work with them towards change. If not, you can NOT have services in this setting.

5.

The Financial Management Service verifies the completion of the assessment process.

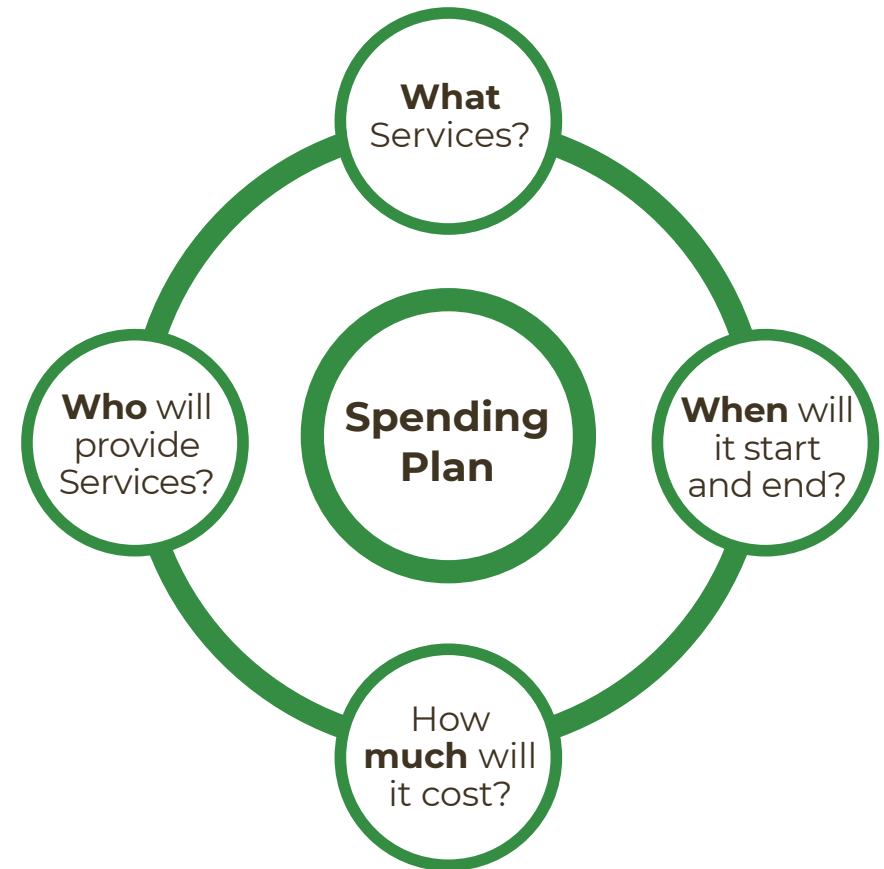

*Setting assessments are required when you're using a service with other individuals with developmental disabilities to ensure they meet the "Final Rule" requirement

Creating Your Spending Plan

You will work with your team to figure out:

- What services will support your needs?
- What category will each service fall under?
- Who will provide the service?
- How often will that service be provided?
- When will it start and end within the next 12 month period?
- How much will it cost?
- Your team will work with you to complete the Provider Agreement Assessment for each service.

Your Spending Plan In Three Budget Categories

Each service in your Spending Plan will be assigned a service code

Each service code belongs to one of these three budget categories

Living Arrangement

Supports in your home
i.e. respite or homemaker

Employment & Community Participation

Supports in your community
i.e. community integration
or individual training and education

If your needs change, you may talk to your service coordinator, Independent Facilitator, and Financial Management Service agency to discuss transferring funds across categories.

Spending Plan changes will need to be documented in your Individual Program Plan.

Allowable Spending Plan Changes:

Transferring up to 10% between categories

Self-Determination Program Services Definitions

Living Arrangement – Community Living Supports

Community Living Supports are services that facilitate independence and promote community integration for participants, regardless of the community living arrangement. Services include support and assistance with socialization, personal skill development, community participation, recreation and leisure, and home and personal care, among others, as further described below. Payments for Community Living Supports do not include the cost for room and board.

Community Living Supports are provided to a participant in his/her home and community to achieve, improve, and/or maintain social and adaptive skills necessary to enable the participant to reside in the community and to participate as independently as possible. Services are provided in environments that support participant comfort, independence, preferences and the use of technology. The participant's choices are incorporated into the services and supports received. The participant has unrestricted access, and the participant's essential personal rights of privacy, dignity and respect, and freedom from coercion are protected.

The service settings are integrated in, and facilitate each participant's full access to the greater community, which includes opportunities for each participant to engage in community life, control personal resources, and receive services in the community.

The specific services provided to each participant will vary based on the individual, the individual's preferences and the community setting chosen. The specific types and mix of supports that an individual receives as well as any special provider qualifications shall be specified in the Individual Program Plan.

The following items describe the types of possible Community Living Supports:

1. Support with socialization includes development or maintenance of self-awareness and self-control, social responsiveness, social amenities, interpersonal skills, and personal relationships.
2. Support with personal skill development includes activities designed to improve the participant's own ability to accomplish activities of daily living, including eating, bathing, dressing, personal hygiene, mobility, and other essential activities.
3. Ensures an individual's rights of privacy, dignity and respect, and freedom from coercion and restraint.
4. Optimizes, but does not regiment, individual initiative, autonomy, and independence in making life choices, including but not limited to, daily activities, physical environment, and with whom to interact.
5. Facilitates individual choice regarding services and supports, and who provides them.

Self-Determination Program Services Definitions

In a provider-owned or controlled residential setting, in addition to the qualities specified above, the following additional conditions must be met:

The unit or dwelling is a specific physical place that can be owned, rented, or occupied under a legally enforceable agreement by the individual receiving services, and the individual has, at a minimum, the same responsibilities and protections from eviction that tenants have under the landlord/tenant law of the State, county, city, or other designated entity.

1. Each individual has privacy in their sleeping or living unit:
 - Units have entrance doors lockable by the individual, with only appropriate staff having keys to doors.
 - Individuals sharing units have a choice of roommates in that setting.
 - Individuals have the freedom to furnish and decorate their sleeping or living units within the lease or other agreement.
2. Individuals have the freedom and support to control their own schedules and activities, and have access to food at any time.
3. Individuals are able to have visitors of their choosing at any time.
4. The setting is physically accessible to the individual.
5. The unit or dwelling may be shared by no more than four waiver participants.
6. Any modification of the additional conditions specified in items 1 through 4 above, must be supported by a specific assessed need and justified in the individual program plan (IPP). The following requirements must be documented in the (IPP):
 - Identify a specific and individualized assessed need.
 - Document the positive interventions and supports used prior to any modifications to the IPP.
 - Document less intrusive methods of meeting the need that have been tried but did not work.
 - Include a clear description of the condition that is directly proportionate to the specific assessed need.
 - Include regular collection and review of data to measure the ongoing effectiveness of the modification.
 - Include established time limits for periodic reviews to determine if the modification is still necessary or can be terminated.
 - Include the informed consent of the individual.
 - Include an assurance that interventions and supports will cause no harm to the individual.

Additionally, provider owned or leased facilities where these services are furnished must be compliant with the Americans with Disabilities Act. The method by which the costs of room and board are excluded from the payment for this service is specified in Appendix I-5.

The repair, maintenance, installation, and training in the care and use of these items are included. Vehicle adaptations must be performed by the adaptive equipment manufacturer's authorized dealer. Repairs to and maintenance of such equipment shall be performed by the manufacturer's authorized dealer where possible.

Vehicle adaptations include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Door handle replacements
2. Door widening
3. Lifting devices
4. Wheelchair securing devices
5. Adapted seat devices
6. Adapted steering, acceleration, signaling, and braking devices

The recipient's family includes the recipient's biological parents, adoptive parents, stepparents, siblings, children, spouse, domestic partner (in those jurisdictions in which domestic partners are legally recognized), or a person who is a legal representative of the recipient. Vehicle adaptations will only be provided when they are documented in the individual plan of care and when there is a written assessment by a licensed Physical Therapist or a registered Occupational Therapist. The vehicle may be owned by the participant or a family member with whom he or she lives or has consistent and ongoing contact, who provides primary long-term support to the participant, and who is not a paid provider of such services.

Self-Determination Program Maximum Financial Management Services (FMS) Rates

FMS Model	Number of Services	Max Rate Per Month
Financial Management Service as Bill Payer	1-3	$50
	4-6	$75
	7+	$100
Financial Management Service as Bill Payer	1-2	$110

Financial Management Services (FMS)

What Is A Financial Management Services (FMS) Agency?

- A Financial Management Services (FMS) agency is a business that helps the participants in the Self- Determination Program (SDP) to manage their Self- Determination Program budget and pay for services they need.
- This is a required service for the Self-Determination program.
- You choose a Financial Management Service agency to help you.
- Payment for the Financial Management Service agency comes from your spending plan.

Notes:

How Will The Financial Management Service Agency Help Me?

- ✓ Provides the forms and information for background checks on my employees
- ✓ Pays for the services I choose
- ✓ Helps me manage my Spending Plan
- ✓ Gives me a monthly report about my Spending Plan
- ✓ Makes sure labor and tax laws are followed

Notes:

About Background Checks

The people you hire to assist you with personal care services such as assistance with dressing, grooming, bathing or personal hygiene needs, are required to obtain a background check.

You or your Financial Management Service Provider may also request a background check for any other provider of services you hire, either through an agency or as an individual.

Background checks are not transferable, so even if someone has done a background check in the past, they will need to do it again to be part of the Self- Determination Program.

It is the responsibility of the person providing you the service to pay for the background check.

Your Financial Management Service agency will provide the forms and information necessary for the background check.

The results will be sent directly to the Department of Developmental Services, who are responsible for tracking the background check. They will then be sent to your Financial Management Service agency who will notify you.

Notes:

Choosing A Financial Management Service Agency

Think about what I need and what I want

What do I NEED?

- ✓ Do I need help with employees?
- ✓ Do I need more help or reminders to keep within my Spending Plan?
- ✓ Do I just need the Financial Management Service to pay the bills and send me statements?

What do I WANT?

Full responsibility for my employees?

OR

Help with the business requirements of having employees?

How can I find the right Financial Management Service agency for me?

- Ask others such as a family member, service coordinator or Independent Facilitator for their opinion to help select.
- Ask other Self-Determination Program participants for suggestions or references.
- Interview people at the Financial Management Service agency to get questions answered.

Possible Questions For Financial Management Service (FMS) Agencies

1. How much do you know about California's Self- Determination Program?
2. What experience have you had with being a Financial Management Service agency?
3. Which financial management service models do you provide? Bill Payer, Sole Employer, Co-Employer
4. How will you communicate with me?
5. If I have a question about developing my individual budget or spending plan, can you help me?
6. If you are a co-employer, what role will you play in the hiring of my workers?
What if I want to hire someone that you don't like? Would you ever ask me to fire one of my workers and for what reason?
7. How will you get the time sheets from my workers?
8. If I am spending more than I should be in my Spending Plan, how will you tell me?
9. How will you send me monthly reports on how I am spending my individual budget?
10. If I have questions, how will I get them answered?

There Are 3 Models Of Working With Your Financial Management Service Agency

- ✓ The people who help me already work for an agency.
- ✓ I want the Financial Management Service agency to purchase items from a company for me.
- ✓ I want the Financial Management Service to pay the agency who provides my services.

In the Bill Payer model participants do not hire their own employees.

Notes:

You Might Choose The Sole Employer Model If...

- ✓ I DO want to be the employer of my workers.
- ✓ I am responsible for the necessary insurances related to employment.
- ✓ I want the Financial Management Service agency to pay my employees and other bills as I instruct them.
- ✓ I submit timesheets to the Financial Management Service agency.
- ✓ I want the Financial Management Service agency to check the background and qualifications of my employees.
- ✓ I agree to have the Financial Management Service agency assist me in following all applicable employment laws.

The Financial Management Service agency will:

- ✓ Follow all applicable employment laws.
- ✓ Check background and qualifications.
- ✓ Handle and pay for necessary insurances related to employment.
- ✓ SHARE responsibility of being the employer.
- ✓ Pay employees and other service providers.

In the Co-Employer model participants share responsibility for managing employees with the Financial Management Service agency.

Notes:

There Is A Cost For The Financial Management Service

The Department of Developmental Services (DDS) determines the cost for the Financial Management Service (FMS)

Cost of the Financial Management Services is based on the number of services you receive and which service model I choose.

Notes:

“Number of Services” Determine The Financial Management Service Monthly Cost

How does the Department of Disabilities define
“Number of Services”?

“Number of services” is equal to the total number

DDS SafetyNet Tip Sheet

How to Defend Yourself: Fighting Back!

Danger signs that you might be harmed or hurt:

- Someone grabs, holds, pushes, slaps or hits you.
- Someone touches or kissed you without you saying it's okay.
- Someone yells, puts you down, or says hurtful things to you.

Things that help:

- Make eye contact — Look the attacker directly in the eye to say you are not afraid!
- Breathe — Take a deep breath and calm yourself.
- Focus — Focus on what to do to get to safety.
- Get help — Call 911, report it to the police, talk to your supporters, and/or get help from an abuse prevention center. Keep seeking help until you are safe.

Defend yourself

Protect yourself when someone tries to hurt you. Here are some ways to defend yourself:

- Surprise your attacker — Don't be a quiet, passive victim. Surprise your attacker by making noise, saying "NO," and/or walking or running away.
- Give 100% effort — When you defend yourself, do one thing at a time and do it with 100% of everything you have whether you yell or run away.
- If all else fails, wait — Let the situation progress, plan, and wait for a chance to get to safety.
- As a last resort, defend yourself physically by fighting back — Use your body "defenders" — your elbow, your heel, your fist, your voice, and your head. A wheelchair or a cane can also be used as a defender.

DDS SafetyNet Tip Sheet

How to Defend Yourself: Fighting Back!

To get away quickly:

1. Aim for a place on the attacker's body that will hurt a lot.
2. Look for a place on the body you can reach.
3. Distract the attacker so you can get to safety.

When you defend yourself, do what you have to do to get to safety!

Some examples are included below:

Hit the attacker in between the ribs with your elbow.

Use your heel to stomp on top of the attacker's foot.

Use your fist to hit the attacker in the nose.

Use your knee to hit the attacker in the groin.

Use your heel to kick the attacker in the shin.

Use your wheelchair to hit the attacker's legs.
