

MOVING FROM PAPER TO PRACTICE

Use person-centered practices to turn HCBS requirements into action.

It's ok if you don't have it all figured out.

We can do this together.

You're invited to join others in your community to explore how to use person-centered approaches to put Home and Community Based Services (HCBS) quality standards into action, taking them From Paper to Practice.

ELARC, in partnership with Helen Sanderson Associates USA, is hosting this remote Community of Practice to discuss opportunities and challenges, explore practical tips, and share insights and ideas for supporting people to be more involved in their community.

DEEP DIVE

September 21
9:00-12:00

Work in small groups to explore what needs to change and what more is possible. We'll take a closer look at HCBS requirement #1 (Being part of the community) and look at practices that will help you and your team support people in making connections in the community.

COACHING CIRCLES

October 19/20
Times vary

Join a small group of peers within your same service type to discuss opportunities and obstacles in relation to the HCBS requirements. Identify what's working and not working, and possible next steps for your organization.

TAKING ACTION

November 16
10:30 - 12:00

We come back together and reflect on what we have tried and learned. You will receive practical resources and tools to create teachable moments within your organization.

What is a Community of Practice?

A Community of Practice is a group of people who "share a concern or a passion for something they do and learn how to do it better as they interact regularly.

Why should I attend?

You will meet other people and be introduced to ideas and practical skills. Together you will build a "community" that can share tips and resources, help solve problems and offer peer support and encouragement.
